

University of Utah
Professional Writing
Community Engaged Learning (CEL) Designated
Writing 3015–92 & –93 ~ ONLINE in Canvas
Spring 2018

Instructor:	Pamela Balluck, Ph.D., Associate Instructor, Department of Writing and Rhetoric Studies (DWRS)
Office & Hours:	(a tiny “cubicle” in) LNCO 2930, one of the rooms across from the elevator; Tuesdays 12:30-1:30 p.m. & by appointment; if you leave anything in my mailbox upstairs at DWRS in LNCO 3700, I may not see it until the following Tuesday or Thursday
Contact:	Use Canvas “Inbox”; if you email me in Canvas, I will receive a Notification in my Umail (p.balluck@utah.edu), which you may use as a last resort; I want to keep electronic class communications recorded in Canvas whenever possible. You may expect in most cases to hear back from me on weekdays within 24 hours and within 48 hours over weekends and holidays.
Phone:	You may not reach me by phone directly, but you may phone DWRS at 801-581-7090, and someone will get a message to me.
Canvas Help:	tacchelpdesk@utah.edu; http://learn-uu.uen.org ; 801-585-5959, M–F, 8:00 a.m.–6:00 p.m. and Saturdays 9:00 a.m.–12:00 p.m.
Computer Help:	http://it.utah.edu/help/ ; 801-581-4000 x 1

NOTE: This is a rigorous course, especially online. See Schedule beginning p. 11.
See “I Understand & Agree” on p. 4.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Writing 3015, Professional Writing, aims to prepare students for on-the-job writing in business and technical professions (though, not the same as Business Writing, WRTG 3016). Students will practice (individually and on a team) writing a variety of professional documents, such as resumes, letters, and memos, including proposals and reports.

Two key assumptions behind this course are:

- (1) Writing (like speaking) is rhetorical in the ways writers appeal to their readers (logos, logic; pathos, sympathy and empathy; ethos, ethics): effective communicators consider the audiences they are addressing and purposes of their documents as they plan, draft, and revise to be persuasive.
- (2) Workplace audiences are very different from academic ones in how they read and respond to written communications.

The objectives of WRTG 3015 are for every student to be able to:

- analyze a writing task and its rhetorical context, including the purpose of the written communication, its intended (and unintended) audience, intended (and unintended) uses, and constraints (see “shadow readers” on Grammar, Etc. page).
- study the basic features of professional writing genres (e-mails, letters, resumes, memos, reports, proposals, etc.) and learn how to modify these features in response to audience and situation.
- write useable, persuasive, clear, accurate, and readable documents.
- develop a professional style of working in teams and managing team projects.
- learn to respond accurately to written instructions.

REQUIRED TEXTS

- All texts will be made available to students electronically via Canvas. I am not requiring students to buy a textbook.
- A lot of reading is compliments of the Purdue OWL (Online Writing Lab): <http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/>
- Students should be able to access assigned readings and other course materials independent of an Internet connection once they have initially accessed them. I recommend you download, save, and print material once it’s been assigned. If it’s available in PDF or in Word, download it to a folder you create for this course.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

INDIVIDUAL ASSIGNMENTS	% OF FINAL GRADE
Job-Search documents (Cover Letter, Resume & References)	20
Policy Recommendation Memo	15
Mid-Term Progress Report	10
Quizzes (*see below)	5
Class Participation	5
Team (Group) Participation (see under “Grading Scale,” p. 6)	10
TEAM ASSIGNMENTS (Community Engaged Learning, CEL)
Researched CEL Annotated Bibliography Memo	15
Final: CEL Grant Writing	20
	<hr/>
	100

Please note that major assignments incorporate a number of smaller (Complete/Incomplete) assignments (including research, updates, potential progress reports, reviews of drafts) that will count toward Class Participation (see above, under Individual Assignments).

QUIZZES, which are not weekly throughout the whole semester (see the following Schedule), are to confirm that students have read assigned texts and are up to speed for what's next. If you don't do well on a Quiz, that indicates the reading you must return to and understand in order to contribute productively in class. Quizzes will be open/available at 12:00 a.m. the beginning of each week they are scheduled and will lock by midnight on the dates they're due, (not always on the same days of the week, to leave you time when Quizzes contain reminders about assignments you're about to submit to make changes before doing so). Each Quiz is based on assigned reading up through that due date, including course handouts, even this Syllabus. Once you open/begin a Quiz, you will have three (3) hours in which to complete it; people who have done the reading usually shouldn't need more than 20 or 30 minutes, if that much time, but I leave three hours in case you need to do the reading then and there. You'll have one try once you begin a Quiz, so make sure you have time to finish and submit it in three hours. Each question will be worth one point (there are no partial points; either all right or not), and the number of questions in each Quiz will vary (Quizzes might be short or long). At the end of the semester, Quiz scores will be totaled and converted into the above percentage. Quizzes cannot be made up (even if you miss the first one because of a late Add).

COURSE POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

My online sections of WRTG 3015 are asynchronous, which means there is no portion during which students and I have to be online together at the same time. If students want to meet with me in real time we might Chat (which I can reveal on the menu bar) in Canvas. It would be rare for me in an online course to depend on communicating in real-time with online students. I don't foresee it and you won't be required to.

I will not be communicating via video or audio. Class communications will be in writing. I will concentrate a great deal on whether students are responding accurately and professionally to written instructions (I will harp on this, because so much of your success and credibility in the professional world will depend on how well you follow written instructions, which translates to how well you consider the needs of your audience).

At the very beginning of each week, you should read what I have posted for that "Week." I will not be posting the course in its entirety but revealing each Week as we arrive at it, occasionally making two consecutive Weeks available at a time. In my sections of WRTG 3015, students may not leap ahead of others. All the Weeks that have been published are posted in "Pages" and the current Week is posted as "Home."

If you are not already familiar with Canvas, use the tutorials Canvas provides under Help. If you're well versed in Canvas, my Canvas classroom may look and function differently from others you've navigated. I am here to teach you online about Professional Writing but not to teach you how to take a course online. I will explain and direct you on how to do things as clearly as I can, but I may also point you to Help desks. Make sure you customize your Canvas Notifications, which you can set to tell you when new things are happening in our classroom via e-mail, text, however you prefer to be notified.

As the course begins, once you have read, questioned me if needed, and you understand WRTG 3015–92 & –93's policies, procedures, and schedule, you will submit a memo to me to that effect (the "I Understand & Agree" assignment). If you claim later in the semester that you didn't know about or understand a policy that is right here in the Syllabus from day one, I will probably remind you of your memo that states that you did know. If you cannot agree to the course policies and/or schedule in this Syllabus, please find another section of WRTG 3015 that will work for you.

FORMATTING, SAVING, AND SUBMITTING DOCUMENTS

Papers in this course should:

- be on 8 1/2 x 11" pages;
- have 1" margins all around;
- have left-aligned margins (except perhaps for resumes);
- be single-spaced;
- be in a 12-point font, preferably Times New Roman or similar (I will share an article with you that suggests 11-point for resumes, but other than that one assignment, do not go smaller than 12).

You should turn off "Widow / Orphan control" (found in Word at: Paragraph > Line & Page Breaks).

You should have a space between paragraphs but not an extra space; you have to set Word not to add an extra space between hard returns (found in Word at: Paragraph > Indents and Spacing, then check the box not to add space).

Do not use the function that fills in the current date because the date will change to every date the document is opened, and your documents should serve in part as accurate records. I usually date drafts the date they are due or sent.

- Note that if you compose or edit documents on a cloud (e.g., GoogleDocs) then download and save, your line spacing may have changed to 1.15 or something else more than single-spaced (anything not “1” is not single spaced). You must make sure the formatting in documents you write and submit to me as attachments follow the above.
- Note that your papers should be no longer or shorter than the assigned lengths; papers that are too short and papers that are too long are equally erroneous.

You will submit documents by attaching them in “Assignments”:

- Files should be saved in Word or Rich Text Format (.rtf), a form of Word. I prefer to read and comment on documents in Word over PDFs. If you don’t have Word, go to <http://software.utah.edu/> and check out what’s free to you. I do not have the capability to give as precise feedback on PDFs as I can on Word docs with “Comment,” “Track Changes,” and multi-color highlighting (including being able to see and comment on your formatting) but I will accept .pdf documents (when they are documents that you have written, I prefer Word). When you are assigned to share files with your classmates for feedback, however, I will not accept PDFs, because I want everyone to practice using Comment and Track Changes (I will show you how); also, the Final must be in Word.
- Files should be saved/named with the student’s last name first (e.g., JonesCoverLetter.rtf, SchwartzResumeDraft.doc, LeeJobAd.pdf, etc.). The name of every attachment submitted to me should begin with the last name of the person submitting it (even if not written by that person), or . . .
- In the second half of the semester, when submitting documents as a team of writers, the files should be named beginning with “Team” and then the number I’ve assigned (e.g., Team3ABMemoDraft.doc).

As stated above, I will be giving feedback on drafts and on graded papers using Comment and Track Changes in Word, and I will be giving you an assignment to help you understand how to use these functions if you are not yet familiar. If students submit their work in .pdf, I can also make comments but not as detailed as I can in Word. In whichever format, if I return a draft with a note saying I’ve made comments on it, and you cannot see them, you will need to find out how to View or Review them (I will notice and grade accordingly if my comments are ignored from draft to draft). If you can’t see my Comments and Track Changes in a Word document, under Review, check “Show Markup,” etc., to reveal them. You can also call Computer Help (801-581-4000) and say you need to know how to reveal your instructor’s Track Changes and Comments in Word; or visit Knowledge Commons. You must be able to read my notes; your not knowing how to see them doesn’t mean they’re not there waiting to be reviewed.

* When you submit your drafts to me for feedback and grading, they must be clean drafts, free of any and all past Comment and Track Changes (Markup). Your draft could look clear to you, but if there is any Markup under “Show Markup,” it will appear the moment I use either Comment or Track Changes. I want to look at every draft as if for the first time. You will be given information about how to Accept or Reject changes to your document to delete Markup and Comments. This is important: If you turn in papers with traces of past Markup , you will be graded down for it. *

TECHNICAL PROBLEMS

The contact information for Computer Help and for Canvas Help are on the first page of this Syllabus.

While computer problems do occur, they are usually not valid reasons for failing to turn in assignments on time or within the late-paper acceptance windows (addressed below under “Graded Assignments”). Exceptions may be made in the event of widespread computer viruses or some other large-scale event affecting Utah's computer network, but exceptions will not be made for routine computer problems or computer losses or thefts. Save Your Work! As soon as you begin a new document, save and re-save along the way. Lost files and computer meltdowns are not valid reasons for failing to fulfill course requirements. Get into the habit of saving your documents in every stage of drafting: to your hard drive, to a flash drive or CD, as an attachment to Web-based e-mail, or to a free “cloud” backup like Dropbox.com, Google Drive (drive.google.com/), or Ubox (box.utah.edu/). There should be no reason for lost work! I have experienced computer meltdowns and lost files, so I know what it feels like; but, still, you are responsible for turning in assignments and will not be excused or given extensions because of an unfortunate or tragic computer meltdown, theft, or whatever.

CANVAS “INBOX” ~ ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATION

Writing in this course should be in proper English and not in abbreviated, all-lower-case, casual writing, such as one might use for texting or instant messaging. This is a formal writing course, and your writing should be in good form. Students should proofread and spell-check before sending or posting communications. Students should address by name (spelled correctly) the person the message is to, and they should sign off by name, and should use whole words, not (within reason) abbreviations. Students should write user-focused Subject lines (see “Email Etiquette” at the Purdue OWL). Please Umail (utah.edu) me only if you cannot contact me via Canvas “Inbox” (as I said on p. 1, I receive Notifications of Inbox messages already at my Umail address).

WEEKLY DEADLINES

At the beginning of each week, that Week’s assignments will be posted at Home a.k.a. Front Page (usually by midnight Sundays). Deadlines will fall on various days in the week. When a deadline is “by midnight,” that means by 11:59 p.m. Mountain Time. See the Schedule below for details. Quizzes cannot be made up if the deadline is missed. If you miss a Drafts deadline for peer feedback you cannot make it up for Participation credit but you might still be able to receive feedback from me, time permitting.

GRADED ASSIGNMENTS

Late papers will be downgraded a whole letter grade for each day (including weekends) that they are late. (An “A-” paper due Sunday and turned in Monday will receive a “B-”; turned in Tuesday will get a “C-”; etc.). Mark due dates in your calendars.

GRADING SCALE (see below)

	89-87 B+	79-77 C+	69-67 D+	59-0 E+
100-94 A	86-84 B	76-74 C	66-64 D
93-90 A-	83-80 B-	73-70 C-	63-60 D-

After the (team) Final papers are turned in, each team member has an opportunity to confidentially assess (grade) others’ participation. Team members receive the same grades on papers, but if they (and I) assess a certain member as having contributed nothing, little, or having contributed poorly, that person’s Team Participation grade (worth up to 10 points) will suffer accordingly. I will be assigning which students are on which teams, but only those members who actually interact with the team will share the same grades on papers; if I have assigned you to a team, and you do not show up in that team—if you are a complete no-show—you will not share the grade but will receive zero points for team papers.

DROP / WITHDRAW

See the Academic Calendar for this semester’s deadlines. To learn more about the University’s Drop/Withdrawal Policy, go to: <http://www.acs.utah.edu/sched/handbook/wddeadlines.htm>.

ACADEMIC HONESTY & PLAGIARISM POLICY

At all times in this course, you should document and be prepared to prove where you get information you use—especially when you write that information into your own assignments.

Willfully copying another’s work and presenting it as if it were your own constitutes plagiarism, which is an offense that the U, the Dept. of Writing & Rhetoric Studies, and I take very seriously. If you fail to act responsibly, you will most likely receive a failing grade (E) for the assignment in question, and you will possibly fail the course.

Again: Plagiarism—the copying/presenting of another’s work as if it were your own—is considered cheating (stealing, really) and is unacceptable. The DWRS’s standard penalty for plagiarism is a failing grade (E) for the assignment, possibly for the course. Some examples of plagiarism include:

- using someone else’s words or ideas without properly quoting/citing them
- relying too much on someone else’s words or ideas, even if you do cite them
- submitting someone else’s paper in parts or in whole as your own, or having someone else write your paper

If you have any doubts as to what constitutes plagiarism, please refer to the Student Code, where you will find:

“Plagiarism” means the intentional unacknowledged use or incorporation of any other person's work in, or as a basis for, one's own work offered for academic consideration or credit or for public presentation. Plagiarism includes, but is not limited to, representing as one’s own, without attribution, any other individual’s words, phrasing, ideas, sequence of ideas, information or any other mode or content of expression.

(We will discuss when it comes to your Final, in which you will be inhabiting the identity of a non-profit organization in order to write as if on its behalf, the difference between plagiarism and borrowing text from “yourself.”)

INCOMPLETES

The University’s “Incomplete” Policy:

University policy: <http://registrar.utah.edu/handbook/incomplete.php>

An Incomplete is given for work not completed due to circumstances beyond the student’s control. The student must be passing the course and have completed at least 80 percent of the required coursework. Arrangements must be made between the student and the instructor concerning the completion of the work.

The Department of Writing & Rhetoric Studies’ “Incomplete” Policy:

The Department of Writing & Rhetoric Studies will offer an Incomplete only under extraordinary circumstances. In order for this to apply, you must have completed at least 80% of the required coursework with passing grades. See www.sa.utah.edu/regist/handbook/incomplete.htm for details. It is extremely unlikely an Incomplete will be granted. It is best to Withdraw by the deadline if you don't think you can finish the course.

U OF U'S CONTENT ACCOMMODATION POLICY

The University recognizes that students' sincerely-held core beliefs may make it difficult for students to fulfill some requirements of some courses or majors.

It is the student's obligation to determine, before the last day to drop courses without penalty, when course requirements conflict with the student's sincerely-held core beliefs. If there is such a conflict, the student should consider dropping the class. A student who finds this solution impracticable may request a content accommodation from the instructor. Though the University provides, through this policy, a process by which a student may make such a request, the policy does not oblige the instructor to grant the request, except in those cases when a denial would be arbitrary and capricious or illegal.

 My Policy: No scheduling or content accommodations will be made by me for this course. *

Non-profit community partners in the CEL portion of this course in past have been as varied as the Muscular Dystrophy Association, the Rape Recovery Center, Noble Horse Sanctuary, and Fight Against Domestic Violence, so students could be dealing in class with issues of disabilities and of physical and emotional abuse. I do not always know at the beginning of the semester who our community partner will be nor its issues. All of my sections of this course will deal with the same community partner.

GENERAL STUDENT RESOURCES

University Writing Center

The University Writing Center offers one-on-one assistance with writing. Tutors can help you understand your writing assignments, help you work through the writing process, and/or help you polish your drafts for all the courses in which you are enrolled. Sessions are free of charge, and you can meet as often as you need. Online students can make appointments for face-to-face tutorials by starting a free account at:

<https://utah.mywconline.com/>

Online students may prefer using eTutoring, the Writing Center's online writing lab. To access eTutoring, click on this link and use your CIS login information:

<https://go.utah.edu/cas/login?service=https://www.etutoring.org/login.cfm?institutionId=416>

English Language Learners

If you are an English language learner, please inquire about support for your language development and writing through the Department of Linguistics.

Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Statement

The University of Utah seeks to provide equal access to its programs, services and activities for people with disabilities. If you will need accommodations in this class, reasonable prior notice needs to be given to the instructor and to the Center for Disability Services, 162 Olpin Union Building, 801.581.5020 (V/TDD) to make arrangements for accommodations. Also see <http://disability.utah.edu>

Wellness Statement

Personal concerns such as stress, anxiety, relationship difficulties, depression, cross-cultural differences, etc., can interfere with a student's ability to succeed and thrive at the University of Utah. For helpful resources contact the Center for Student Wellness at www.wellness.utah.edu; 801-581-7776.

Addressing Sexual Misconduct

Title IX makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender (which includes sexual orientation and gender identity/expression) is a Civil Rights offense subject to the same kinds of accountability and the same kinds of support applied to offenses against other protected categories such as race, national origin, color, religion, age, status as a person with a disability, veteran's status or genetic information. If you or someone you know has been harassed or assaulted, you are encouraged to report it to the Title IX Coordinator in the Office of Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action, 135 Park Building, 801-581-8365, or the Office of the Dean of Students, 270 Union Building, 801-581-7066. For support and confidential consultation, contact the Center for Student Wellness, 426 SSB, 801-581-7776. To report to the police, contact the Department of Public Safety, 801-585-2677(COPS).

Veterans Center

If you are a student veteran, you should know that the U of Utah has a Veterans Support Center on campus in Room 418 in the Olpin Union Building. Hours: M-F 7-6pm. Please visit the website for more information about support, a list of ongoing events, and links to outside resources: <http://veteranscenter.utah.edu/>.

SCHEDULE

* This Schedule will be consistently corrected and updated throughout the semester. *

You should always check the current “Week” at Canvas “Home.” Updates to this Syllabus past the first day of class will occur electronically in red, and the date of the update will appear in a footer.

WEEK 1 ~ Beginning M 1/8

Intro to: Syllabus

Intro to: “I Understand and Agree” assignment

Intro to: Job Search assignment

~“I Understand and Agree” memo DUE BY midnight (by 11:59 p.m.) Sunday

~Job-ad-target ideas DUE BY midnight Sunday for my approval; you may not submit drafts next week if I have not approved your target audience and ad

~Quiz 1 DUE BY midnight Sunday

WEEK 2 ~ Beginning T 1/16

Intro to: E-mail assignment

Intro to: Comment & Track Changes assignment

~E-mail assignment DUE by midnight Friday via “Inbox”

~Quiz 2 DUE by midnight Friday

~Drafts of Job Search documents DUE in “Assignments” to me and peers for feedback by midnight (by 11:59 p.m.) Friday (see pp. 6–7 of this Syllabus under “Weekly Deadlines”)

~Comment & Track Changes assignment DUE by midnight Sunday in “Assignments”

WEEK 3 ~ Beginning T 1/22

~Return feedback to peers by midnight Wednesday

~Consider feedback and revise

~Quiz 3 DUE by midnight Friday

~Job Search assignment DUE by midnight Sunday

WEEK 4 ~ Beginning M 1/29

Intro to: Policy Recommendation Memo

~Quiz 4 DUE by midnight Sunday

WEEK 5 ~ Beginning M 2/5

~Draft of Policy Recommendation Memo DUE to me and peers for feedback by midnight Friday (see pp. 6–7 of this Syllabus under “Weekly Deadlines”)

WEEK 6 ~ Beginning M 2/12

~Return feedback to peers by midnight Wednesday

~Consider feedback and revise

~Quiz 5 DUE by midnight Friday

~Policy Recommendation Memo assignment DUE by midnight Sunday

WEEK 7 ~ Beginning T 2/20

Intro to: Mid-Term Memo assignment

Intro to: Collaborative Writing & Community Engaged Learning

~Quiz 6 DUE by midnight Sunday

WEEK 8 ~ Beginning M 2/26 (LAST DAY TO WITHDRAW F 3/2)

Intro to: 1st team-written assignment, Annotated Bibliography Memo

Intro to: CEL Team members you’ll be working with and sharing grades with for remainder of the semester (perhaps get set up together on GoogleDocs)

~Mid-Term Memo dropbox opens on Wednesday

~Mid-Term Memo DUE by midnight Friday

WEEK 9 ~ Beginning M 3/5

~Teams discuss assigned reading on collaborative writing and ways of organizing and running a research-and-writing team ~ make sure you’ve discussed everything you should before jumping headlong in.

~Teams discuss the Annotated Bibliography Memo assignment and how to approach it as a team

WEEK 10 ~ Beginning M 3/12

~Teams work to prepare Drafts for submission

~(Team) Draft of (at least the major formatting of the) Annotated Bibliography Memo DUE by midnight *Friday in Canvas for my feedback

WEEK 11 ~ SPRING BREAK

WEEK 12 ~ Beginning M 3/26

~Teams discuss my feedback & continue working on Annotated Bibliography Memo

~(Team) Annotated Bibliography Memo DUE by midnight *Sunday

WEEK 13 ~ Beginning M 4/2

Intro to: (team written) Final, Grant-Writing Memo

Intro to: (team-written) Between-Projects Memo

~Discuss Between Projects Memo & begin drafting

~(Team) Between Projects Memo DUE by midnight *Friday

WEEK 14 ~ Beginning M 4/9

~Teams work on preparing Draft of Final due next week

WEEK 15 ~ Beginning M 4/16

Intro to: Individually-written Confidential Team Evaluation Memo assignment

~Teams work on Draft of Final for feedback

~Draft of Final DUE by midnight *Friday for my feedback

WEEK 16 ~ M 4/23 – T 4/24

~Teams discuss my feedback and how to go about editing and revising

FINALS ~ W 5/2

~Team-Written Finals DUE by 3:00 p.m.

~Individual, Confidential Memos DUE by midnight