Fall 2022 Tribal Histories Ethnic Studies 4870 3 credits

In Tribal Histories students will explore the Native American past while gaining hands-on experience with documenting history. During the term we will conduct archival research and collect oral histories working toward a final project centering a tribal nation, a community, a group of extended family members, or even a sole Native individual. The course is beneficial for students who want to document their tribal heritages and for those who want to gain a better understanding of Native American history.
