

CRIM 101-090/CRIM 1010-090/SOC 1111-290: Introduction to Criminal Justice
Summer 2025

Course Description

The basic aim of the course is to present an overview of the criminal justice system in the USA: its principles and goals, its organization, its personnel, its policies, and its impacts. We will briefly touch on perspectives of justice and the various theories that attempt to explain crime. We will also address issues relating to race, ethnicity, class, and gender which have been historically neglected. Should you choose a degree in Criminology/Criminal Justice, the courses you can take later will explore each of the major sub-parts of the system (law, police, courts, corrections) in much greater depth and detail.

Course Goals and Objectives

After completing this course, students should be able to recognize, understand, and think critically about issues relating to criminal justice. Additionally, students should be able to apply concepts covered in the course to their encounters with criminal justice (via the media, through personal experience, and so on). Specific learning objectives include:

- Understand the conceptual and theoretical foundation of the American criminal justice system
- Understand the criminal justice process, function, and organization (including the relationship and interactions among) of the three major criminal justice components— police, courts, and corrections
- Differentiate between what is fact and what is fiction concerning the criminal justice system
- Be aware of some of the relevant issues (e.g., racial, ethnic, and gender disparities) being faced by US criminal justice institutions today.

Course Work

Midterm & Final Exam: The exams will cover materials from the textbook and lectures. Each exam will consist of (but not limited to) multiple-choice questions, true/false questions, and short answers. The exams are cumulative and are open-book and open-note exams. However, students must complete the exams independently and are not allowed to share or discuss the exam questions with others. For the midterm exam, students will have 90 minutes to take the exam. For the final exam, students will have 100 minutes to take the exam. Exam dates are displayed below the exam name on the related Canvas modules, but the instructor may move the test dates according to the progress made in class.

Writing Assignments: 2 writing assignments will be assigned throughout the semester. These assignments will require you to answer specific questions and for the most part will not require outside research or resources. It should be submitted online through course space, using the Assignments tool. It should be between 350 and 500 words (no longer than two pages, 12 fonts, double-spaced).

Quizzes: There will be 5 quizzes assigned over the semester. These quizzes are to test your understanding of the topics covered and will be simple and no-sweat. The questions in these quizzes are derived from both the slides (lectures) and the book chapters and will be multiple-choice and true or false questions.

Discussions: For each substantive week of the course, there will be an online discussion regarding the course material. The object of these discussions is not to test you on your reading of each section's material. Rather, these discussions are intended to allow you to discuss your thoughts and opinions relating to the material and learn from each other.

To receive full credit for each week's discussion:

- Post at least three (3) comments. Each of these comments should be at least 60 words. Of these three comments:
 - One must be a new topic/thread
 - Two should be responses to other people's comments.
- Your initial comment must be posted by Wednesday each week so your classmates have a chance to respond.
- You are more than welcome to make more than three comments each week and have over 60 words per comment if you find that you have more that you want to say.
- Although you do have specific requirements that you must meet for each discussion, I will be looking more for the quality of your comments than for the sheer quantity of them.

Regarding Discussion Activity Posts: The discussion forum is an important part of this course and a vital component of our online community—therefore I expect discussion posts to reflect thoughtful and critical thinking regarding the notes and readings. Challenge each other, but do so respectfully. It is of utmost importance that each student respects the thoughts of their peers.

Extra Credit: There will be one opportunity for extra credit during the semester. Extra credit assignment will be worth 5 points.

Submitting Assignments:

Assignment due dates are displayed below the assignment name on both the Module and Assignment Index page on Canvas, but the instructor reserves the right to move due dates according to the progress made in class. Each assignment should be submitted to Canvas before 11:59 pm of the due date.

Please note that assignments such as writing assignments and short answers in the exams will be subjected to plagiarism checking via Turnitin.

All assignments, unless otherwise announced, must be submitted to the designated area of Canvas. Do not submit assignments via email.

Late Assignments:

Late submissions will result in a 10% deduction for each assignment that is submitted late. Unless otherwise approved, I do not accept more than 48 hours of late work. For the weekly Discussion assignments, 2 points will be taken off for late submission of the initial/first comment (the initial comment is due on the Wednesday of that week).
